Principal's Corner

We are truly "marching" through this year! As we close out February and welcome March, we look forward to the Spring months ahead. Last week, students were able to enjoy the outdoors and get some fresh air during recess. With that said, please remember to send your child with a coat and hat, as we will take advantage of our outdoor space as much as mother nature allows us!

To note, March 25th marks the end of the 3rd marking period of this school year. Report cards will be distributed the following week. If you have questions or concerns about your child's academic progress, please don't hesitate to contact your child's teacher.

In honor of Read Across America, I'd like to emphasize the importance of encouraging your child to read daily. When children read more, they not only exercise their brain, which helps them retain more knowledge, but they also achieve more in school. Let's also not forget that reading with your child can create fun family time which promotes strong family relationships!

As Dr. Seuss states...

As always, thank you for your continued support throughout this school year. Please reach out if you have any questions or concerns.

—Mrs. Nichole Garthwaite

Café' Corner

BIRTHDAY TREAT INFO - we are not able to buy the cupcakes at this time. All birthday treats ordered through the school will be a wrapped cookie. Thank you for your patience and understanding! — Mrs. Chris Krott

Please encourage your child to join us for breakfast during National School Lunch week March 7-11. They can choose from a hot entree or several ready to serve items. Studies show students have better focus, higher test scores and a "jump start" to their day when they eat a healthy breakfast in the morning.

Nurse's Nook:

March is National Nutrition Month and to help with ways to snack healthier, try some of these healthy snack ideas for your family: "Ants on a Log" – celery with peanut butter and raisins, mix fresh or canned fruit (100% juice, not syrup) with fat free or low-fat yogurt or apple slices with peanut butter. Try smearing low-fat chocolate pudding on a whole grain cracker, then top with a marshmallow! Check out www.eatright.org for more ideas.

For those with nut allergies remember you can substitute an alternative for peanut butter, such as sunflower seed butter. Always check labels for ingredients!

An informational sheet (from Eat Right. Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics) will be sent home with the students each week during the month of March with topics such as "health tips", "eating on the run", "eat right with my plate", and "smart snacking". These will be posted on the Health Services section of www.ottoeldred.org as well.

Thank you— Mrs. Templin
